

Construction Disputes

We have the right solution for your problem, whether it involves routine change order negotiation or expert testimony and litigation support.

On-The-Job Dispute Resolution. The highest return on your consultant investment occurs when a problem is solved before it morphs into a prolonged and contested dispute. We work with owners, contractors, and design professionals to identify, analyze, and resolve potentially costly disputes before parties are polarized.

Claims Preparation and Analysis. Our team of multi-disciplined professionals has the requisite experience, knowledge, and skills to operate in today's sophisticated claims environment. We utilize this extensive expertise to prove or defend complicated financial, impact, and delay claims.

Expert Testimony & Litigation Support. Some claims and disputes may escalate further, requiring mediation, arbitration, or a judicial hearing. When used in any of these forums, our analytical and presentation skills can help your project and legal team deliver a factual and compelling account of your position.

"I retained Steve Amento to serve as our lead expert witness and leader of our defect investigation team. He brought to bear his tremendous knowledge of specialized defect issues as well as his organizational skills to craft our defense... ending in a global settlement and a very happy client."
